SPEAKER

Dr. John W. Smith is a veteran educator and administrator who twice served as interim president of the University of South Alabama.

He served 14 years at the University, including as executive vice president, and led University efforts to reopen campus to full operations after the COVID-19 pandemic limited in-person teaching and extracurricular activities.

In addition to his oversight of the main academic campus, Smith worked with senior leadership in the management of the USA Health academic healthcare system.

Smith has more than 40 years of leadership experience in higher education. During his time at South, the University greatly increased its appeal and capacity as a residential campus, with the addition of three new residence halls, a new dining hall, a new recreation center and a major renovation of the student center. Smith supervised Student Affairs offices and support functions including housing, food service, the police department, Greek life, student activities, multicultural affairs, counseling services, student media, the bookstore, and safety and environmental compliance.

After nearly 25 years at the University of Central Arkansas, where he served in several senior leadership positions including as executive vice president and interim president, Smith arrived at the University of South Alabama in 2008 as vice president for student affairs. By 2010, he had become special assistant to the president in the administration of V. Gordon Moulton. After the death of Moulton in 2013, he served as interim president. He became executive vice president during the administration of Dr. Tony Waldrop, and again was appointed interim president after Waldrop retired.

Smith was an associate professor in the College of Education and Professional Studies and served as USA's Faculty Athletic Representative to the NCAA and chair of the Athletics Council. He was closely involved in compliance issues and established and served as chair of the Compliance Oversight Committee for Athletics.

While growing up in rural South Carolina, Smith had no plans to attend college, but several teachers and mentors led him to a career in higher education.

He ran cross country in high school and at Berry College in Mount Berry, Georgia, where he earned a degree in physical education. From there, he earned a master's degree in guidance and counseling from West Georgia College, now the University of West Georgia, and a doctorate in educational leadership from Mississippi State University.

Smith is married to the former Jeanne Williams. The couple live in Dawsonville, Georgia; they have three adult sons, Brian, Eric and Timothy, along with three grandchildren.

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH ALABAMA

A BRIEF HISTORY

After starting without a single building, the University of South Alabama celebrated its 60th Anniversary year as the academic, research and healthcare Flagship of the Gulf Coast.

USA's story began in the early 1960s. Mobile's civic leaders realized that the region had outgrown its small university extension program downtown. They formulated plans for a four-year, degree-granting institution. On May 3, 1963, a bill creating a new, independent university passed the Alabama Legislature. USA was born.

Classes began in June 1964 at a new, $1 million building in west Mobile. Initial enrollment totaled 276. The pent-up demand for education became obvious when the first fall semester began. Enrollment leaped to 928. Today, USA enrolls approximately 14,000 students and has awarded more than 109,000 degrees.

That first building is now the Frederick Palmer Whiddon Administration Building, named after USA's first president. Whiddon retired in 1998. His successor, longtime faculty member and administrator V. Gordon Moulton, oversaw a new era of growth into the 21st century. Dr. Tony G. Waldrop, president from 2014 to 2021, continued the USA tradition of visionary leadership focused on discovery, health and learning.

Waldrop's successor, President Jo Bonner, enthusiastically promotes a South education as a "firstclass ticket to a brighter future." Fall 2023 enrollment and first-year student retention both increased, and first-year student enrollment jumped by 19 percent.

Almost from the moment USA accepted its first students, its leaders ambitiously worked toward establishing a medical school. The College of Medicine charter class began in 1973. The College of Nursing and the Pat Capps Covey College of Allied Health Professions later complemented USA's focus on health education.

Today, USA provides high-quality education in business, the liberal arts, education, engineering, computing, the sciences and healthcare. It offers more than 115 undergraduate, graduate and doctoral degrees through its 10 colleges and schools.

A charter member of the Sun Belt Conference, USA fields teams in 17 Division I sports, including baseball, softball, basketball, soccer, volleyball, tennis, golf, cross country and track and field. In 2020, the football team played its first game in the new Hancock Whitney Stadium.

USA Health is the University of South Alabama's academic health system. With its hospitals and physician practice sites throughout the area, the health system integrates clinical care, research and healthcare education to deliver the most advanced medical care in the region. The recently acquired Providence Hospital joins University Hospital, Children's & Women's Hospital and the Mitchell Cancer Institute as major healthcare centers. USA Health also includes the region's largest multispecialty practice and the only academic physicians group on the upper Gulf Coast.

Work is underway on a new Frederick P. Whiddon College of Medicine building that will allow South to increase its physician class size. After 60 years, the University continues to grow to serve the needs of the Gulf Coast.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Academic regalia can be traced back to European universities and ecclesiastical practices of the Middle Ages. As early as 1321, costumes identified the status of the wearer. In addition to signaling differences of degree, the garments had functional purposes, providing necessary warmth in sparsely heated buildings.

Regalia differentiate among the three degree levels used by our University; bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees. Common to all three levels is the headwear; the familiar square black mortarboard, although soft velvet tams may be worn by those holding doctorates. The gowns appropriate to the three ranks differ in the shape of the sleeves and in the special trim found on the doctoral gown. The bachelor's gown, which is unadorned, has wide sleeves that are pointed at the bottom. The master's gown has curiously designed sleeves, which are elongated at the rear and reach downward to the gown's bottom hem. The doctoral gown has bell-shaped sleeves and is distinctively trimmed with velvet facings down the front and three velvet bars on each sleeve. These trimmings may be black or the color appropriate to the discipline in which the degree was awarded.

The hoods worn by those holding the master's and doctoral degrees provide the color of the academic procession. These garments are draped over the shoulders and back of the wearer to display the linings, which present the colors of the university awarding the degree. Those holding degrees from the University of South Alabama wear hoods lined with chevrons of red, white, and blue. The hoods also have velvet binding, three inches wide for the master's degree and five inches for the doctorate, in a color designating the discipline.
